

Questions?

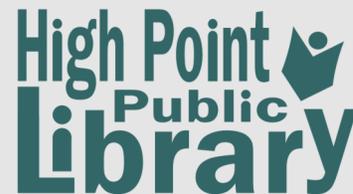

If you have any questions about Films on Demand or NC LIVE, ask at the Readers' Services Desk on the 3rd floor of the Library, or give us a call at (336) 883-3638.

Both video collections also have a Help section located in the top right-hand corner of the webpage. Visit the Help section to access video tutorials, interactive training, and how-to tips and tricks!

Accessing High Point Public Library's Digital Streaming Video Collection with

This printed material will be provided in an alternate format upon request.

Readers' Services

High Point Public Library
901 North Main Street
High Point, NC, 27261
Phone: (336) 883-3638

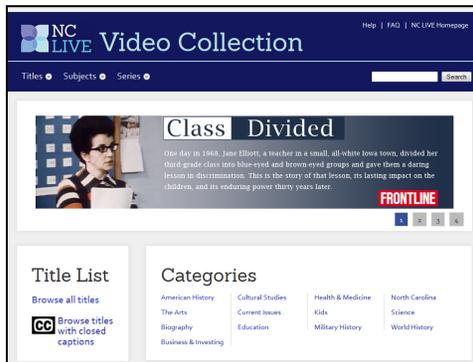

www.nclive.org

From www.highpointpubliclibrary.com, look for the NC Live flower under “Popular Destinations”:

- 1  Click this icon to go to NC Live.
- 2 Click on
- 3 Select “NC LIVE Video Collection”

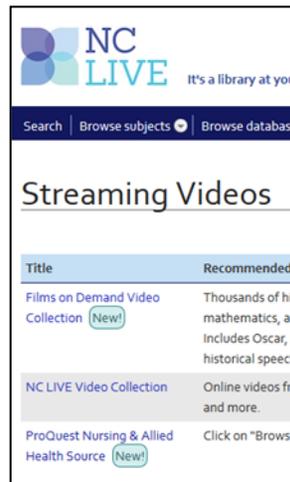

This will bring you to the Video Collection homepage, where you can browse by title, category, or producer and watch the video you want at the click of a play button! Below is a list of the featured producers:

ABOUT the VIDEO COLLECTION

The High Point Public Library website gives you access to thousands of videos and films that you can watch online for free.

Most of the Library’s videos can be accessed through NC LIVE — a digital library database that is free for the High Point public. NC Live’s video services are split into two services: the NC LIVE Video Collection and Films on Demand. Both services have a wealth of videos that you can stream for free.

The NC LIVE Video Collection has videos from producers such as Ken Burns, Masterpiece Theater, American Experience, and more. This video service also has a great selection of NC historical footage from the public archives.

Films on Demand has videos from producers such as National Geographic, BBC, History Channel, Nova, and more. This video service is more expansive, with a larger number and variety of videos.

NOTE: All streaming video requires continuous internet access. Video content on NC LIVE/Films on Demand cannot be downloaded and accessed offline.

Accessing

<http://digital.films.com>

You can access Films on Demand from the “Streaming Videos” page on NC LIVE (see left). Although it’s not necessary to create an account to use Films on Demand, creating an account allows you to bookmark videos and save user preferences so that you can personalize your experience.

You can browse featured videos or collections. Clicking on the title of a video will bring you to the title’s summary screen where you will be able to watch the video by clicking on play icon:

With over 1000 titles, Films on Demand offers a broad range of educational video. Below is the list of featured producers:

