HIGH POINT PUBLIC LIBRARY TO HOST BESTSELLING AUTHOR KATHERINE CENTER

Book Signing, Reading and Discussion on August 23

HIGH POINT, N.C. (July 5, 2019) – The High Point Public Library will host the New York Times bestselling novelist Katherine Center Friday, August 23 at 2:00 p.m. for a reading, discussion and book signing. This event will be held at the High Point Public Library, 901 North Main Street, High Point, NC in conjunction with St. Martin's Press as part of the upcoming national book tour for her novel "Things You Save in a Fire" to be published on August 13.

With her trademark wit and heart, Katherine Center delivers a story that explores what it really means to be courageous and how to love against all odds. NYT Bestselling Author Jodi Picoult offer this observation, "Oh, how I love Katherine Center's writing ... and her newest novel is a gem ... a story that reminds us that the word emergency has, at its heart, a new beginning. Just read it, and thank me later."

Registration for the event is not required, but it is suggested if you want to be sure to get a seat.

Bookmarks of Winston Salem will be on hand to sell copies of Susanna's books starting at 1 p.m. There will be a reading and discussion at 2:00 p.m., followed by a book signing from 2:45 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Julie Raynor at 336.883.3093 or julie.raynor@highpointnc.gov.
