CRAFT VENDORS JOIN HIGH POINT FARMERS MARKET

High Point, N.C. (May 13, 2021) – Beginning Saturday, May 15, craft vendors join the regular food vendors at the High Point Farmers Market, selling a variety of locally produced hand-made crafts. Visitors to the market will find items such as jewelry, soaps, lotions, handwoven rag rugs, pottery, woodworking products, doormats and candles.

Each Saturday, the market offers local produce, meats, poultry, fish, eggs, coffee by the bag and by the cup, baked products, plants, herbs and cut flowers. Friends of the High Point Public Library provides a Mini-Market Book Sale, with all books only $1, and the High Point Public Library has free take-home craft kits for children as long as supplies last.

This Saturday, Hope Food Truck will be onsite, and the Singecats will provide live music.

The High Point Farmers Market is a SNAP-certified Market, and EBT cards are accepted at the Farmers Market table. The market also offers a Double the Bucks program, whereby SNAP customers receive twice the value of their EBT charge in Farmers Market tokens. Participants in Guilford County Community Cares program can use their orange cards to receive vouchers for produce at the farmers market table.

The market takes place each Saturday through October 30, from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at the High Point Public Library, 901 North Main St.
