Key Risk locating in Downtown High Point

HIGH POINT, NC – Key Risk, a Berkley Company is locating their Workman’s Compensation business in downtown High Point in early 2022. Key Risk will be locating in the under construction Outfields Building at 275 N Elm Street being brought to market by Elliott Sidewalk Companies.

Scott Holbrook will be throwing out the first pitch at the High Point Rockers Game tonight against the Lexington Legends as the company hosts Family Night at the Stadium for their employees. Scott said “High Point is the perfect location for our employees and the future of Key Risk. We want to have a creative, engaging office environment that our employees see as an exciting place to come to work every day. The amenities of the Cana Food Hall, Congdon Yards, and Truist Point the Rockers Stadium are all key to us wanting to be downtown in High Point.”

High Point Mayor Jay Wagner --- “the City has worked diligently for this day. People often say an opportunity presented itself, but the opportunity was actually always there. We had to dig deep and bring our downtown to life 365 days a year with bold creative leadership. Thank you to all who have helped make this downtown opportunity a reality.”

Sandy Dunbeck, Director of High Point Economic Development Corporation said, “We love to see this fantastic financial services company locate in downtown High Point. The City’s goal has been to provide assets and quality of life for companies exactly like Key Risk to want to bring their operations here. This is an excellent example of creativity meeting commerce and speaks to the strengths of Greensboro–High Point and Guilford County as an excellent place to do business. We know the High Point community and our region has the resources that will support the company’s immediate and long-term growth plans.”
