PUBLIC SERVICES AWARENESS DAY MAY 24

Opportunity for Residents to Learn More About City of High Point Public Services Operations

HIGH POINT, N.C. (May 18, 2017) – In recognition of National Public Works Week, the City of High Point will host a Public Services Awareness Day on Wednesday, May 24 from 9:00 a.m. to noon at the High Point University Community Center, located at 921 Eastchester Drive. This event will be an opportunity for High Point residents to learn more about vital public works programs and day-to-day operations, as well as see some of the equipment that is used to help maintain the operation of sanitary and storm sewers, public buildings and grounds, water treatment and wastewater facilities, landfill and backyard composting, solid waste collection, recycling and street maintenance.

City staff will be on hand to demonstrate equipment use and discuss facility operations. This event is free and open to the public, and sponsored by the City of High Point and High Point University.

For more information please contact Beautification Supervisor Rebecca Coplin at 336.883.3520 or rebecca.coplin@highpointnc.gov or Stormwater Specialist Kelsie Burgess at 336.883.3819 or kelsie.burgess@highpointnc.gov.

The City of High Point aims to serve as the catalyst for bringing together the community's human, economic and civic resources for the purpose of creating the single most livable, safe and prosperous community in America. For more information on the City, visit www.highpointnc.gov.
