LOCAL REALTOR TO GIVE AWAY AMERICAN FLAGS AT HIGH POINT FARMERS MARKET

HIGH POINT, N.C. (June 26, 2017) – This Saturday, July 1, Craven-Johnson-Pollock, Inc. will provide small American flags for anyone attending the High Point Farmers Market at the High Point Public Library. This is the second year that the local realty company has offered the complimentary flags in honor of the Independence Day holiday.

In addition to fresh local produce vendors, the market features several baked good vendors, including gluten-free items, and free health screenings by High Point University School of Health Sciences faculty.

The Farmers Market is held every Saturday until October 26 from 8:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. in the parking lot of the High Point Public Library, located at 901 N Main Street. For more information about the Farmers Market, contact Market Manager Lee Gann at 336.689.4463 or thelegann@gmail.com.

The High Point Public Library is committed to nurturing the joy of reading, sharing the power of knowledge, strengthening the sense of community and enhancing cultural and economic vitality. The library is a department of the City of High Point.

The City of High Point aims to serve as the catalyst for bringing together the community's human, economic and civic resources for the purpose of creating the single most livable, safe and prosperous community in America. For more information on the City, visit www.highpointnc.gov.
