LIBRARY HOSTS SESSION ON FALL VEGETABLE GARDENING

HIGH POINT, N.C. (July 17, 2017) – On Wednesday, August 16, from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the Morgan Community Room, the High Point Public Library will host a session on fall vegetable gardens and how to continue harvesting past the summer months. This session will focus on strategies and timing to maximize yield and extend garden harvests by growing fall and winter crops, as well as techniques to manage production past the first frost.

This event is free and open to the public, and presented by the N.C. Extension Services Master Gardener Volunteers. The High Point Public Library is located at 901 N Main Street. For more information, contact Librarian Mark Taylor at 336.883.3646 or mark.taylor@highpointnc.gov.

The High Point Public Library is committed to nurturing the joy of reading, sharing the power of knowledge, strengthening the sense of community and enhancing cultural and economic vitality. The library is a department of the City of High Point.
