LIBRARY HOSTS COMPOSTING WORKSHOP

Presented by the NC Extension Services Master Gardener Volunteers

HIGH POINT, N.C. (October 9, 2017) – On Wednesday, November 8, the NC Extension Services Master Gardener Volunteers will hold an informational session on composting and vermicomposting from 6:00 – 7:30 p.m. in the High Point Public Library Morgan Community Room. Composting is not only a way to recycle, but also improves the fertility and texture of soil. Discussion will include easy ways to start composting in your own backyard, as well as vermicomposting, the process of composting with worms, and having a successful worm bin at home.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, please contact Librarian Mark Taylor at 336.883.3646 or mark.taylor@highpointnc.gov.

The High Point Public Library is committed to nurturing the joy of reading, sharing the power of knowledge, strengthening the sense of community and enhancing cultural and economic vitality. The library is a department of the City of High Point.
