Environmental Air Systems Closes Purchase of Triad Facility

GREENSBORO, NC Oct. 17, 2017 – Environmental Air Systems and Envirotrol today announced the acquisition of a 245,000 square-foot office and manufacturing facility with the help of JLL and Samet Properties. The full service building is located at 250 Swathmore Ave, High Point, North Carolina.

Based in the Triad area of Central North Carolina, Environmental Air Systems, LLC is a mission critical mechanical contractor and custom HVAC equipment manufacturer and through its subsidiary Envirotrol, is a building controls contractor and commercial HVAC Service provider. The facility located at 250 Swathmore Ave. in High Point will support the company's construction, manufacturing, building controls and service businesses. EAS will employ over 300 people at this location.

"We're seeing sustained demand for our products and services," said Brian Evans, EAS President & CEO. "The location, size and capacity of this property offers Environmental Air Systems and Envirotrol the chance to bring our five Triad area locations together under one roof supporting the continued growth of our business operations for years to come."

The company will add overhead cranes and make various modifications to the facility over the next six months. They plan to host an open house in the spring for its customers and suppliers. Arrangements will be finalized and communicated at a later date.

Environmental Air Systems is one of the premiere mechanical contractors, controls and service provider in the markets they serve and a leading full-service national manufacturer of custom built HVAC solutions designed, manufactured and supplied throughout North America. In conjunction with their custom HVAC offering, they also specialize in highly engineered modular off-site construction applications for a variety of mission critical customers. Environmental Air Systems is a Comfort Systems USA company. Visit our website at easinc.net
