

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Mark Taylor 336.883.3646

UPCOMING FEBRUARY PROGRAMS AT THE HIGH POINT PUBLIC LIBRARY

HIGH POINT, N.C. (January 11, 2018) – The High Point Public Library will host several upcoming programs in February. Each program is free and open to the public, and registration is not required.

On Saturday, February 10, the first High Point-area “Seeds to Share” program will be from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in the Morgan Community Room. Participants will be able to receive free seeds of various vegetables, flowers and herbs to start a community, school or home garden. Attendees are encouraged to bring other seeds to share if they collected any during 2017.

On Tuesday, February 20, “Medicare Basics for Seniors” will be held in the Morgan Community Room from 10:00 – 11:00 a.m. This workshop is part of an ongoing series, and attendees will learn from presenter Eric Moser all there is to know about Medicare, including how to properly fill out the required forms.

On Wednesday, February 21, the NC Extension Services Master Gardener Volunteers will present “Totally Tomatoes” from 6:00 – 7:30 pm. in the Morgan Community Room. This class will discuss successful tips and techniques for growing tomatoes in home gardens.

For more information, please contact Librarian Mark Taylor at 336.883.3646 or mark.taylor@highpointnc.gov.

The High Point Public Library is a department of the City of High Point and is located at 901 North Main Street. High Point Public Library is committed to nurturing the joy of reading, sharing the power of knowledge, strengthening the sense of community and enhancing economic and cultural vitality.

The City of High Point aims to serve as the catalyst for bringing together the community’s human, economic and civic resources for the purpose of creating the single most livable, safe and prosperous community in America. For more information on the City, visit www.highpointnc.gov.

###